The moving images of a film are created by photographing actual scenes with a motion-picture camera, by photographing drawings or miniature models using traditional animation techniques, by means of CGI and computer animation, or by a combination of some or all of these techniques, and other visual effects. Before the introduction of digital production, film was a physical strip of film consisting of a series of static or still images of live action photographed at the rate of 24 frames or images per second. When the images are viewed at the same rate the illusion of motion is the result of what is called persistence of vision, the fact that the mind cannot process individual images at that speed, so the images merge together to produce the illusion of motion within the image. If the film is an animation of any kind, the widely separated in time images are planned to be seen at the standard speed.

Profit is a key force in the industry, due to the costly and risky nature of filmmaking many films have large cost overruns, an example being Kevin Costners Waterworld. Yet many filmmakers strive to create works of lasting social significance. The Academy Awards also known as the Oscars are the most prominent film awards in the United States, providing recognition each year to films, based on their artistic merits. There is also a large industry for educational and instructional films made in lieu of or in addition to lectures and texts. Revenue in the industry is sometimes volatile due to the reliance on blockbuster films released in movie theaters. The rise of alternative home entertainment has raised questions about the future of the cinema industry, and Hollywood employment has become less reliable, particularly for medium and low-budget films.⁶

Early home media releases The 2019 film Frozen II was originally planned to be released on Disney+ on June 26, 2020, before it was moved up to March 15. Disney CEO Bob Chapek explained that this was because of the films powerful themes of perseverance and the importance of family, messages that are incredibly relevant.¹³⁵¹³⁶ On March 16, 2020, Universal announced that The Invisible Man, The Hunt, and Emma - all films in theaters at the time - would be available through premium video on demand as early as March 20 at a suggested price of US.99 each.¹³⁷ After suffering poor box office since its release at the start of March, Onward was made available to purchase digitally on March 21, and was added to Disney+ on April 3.¹³⁸ Paramount announced on March 20, Sonic the Hedgehog is also planning to have an early release to video on demand, on March 31.¹³⁹¹⁴⁰ On March 16, Warner Bros. announced that Birds of Prey would be released early to video on demand on March 24.¹⁴¹ Three days later, the studio then announced that The Way Back would also be available on video on demand the same date as Birds of Prey.¹⁴² On April 3, Disney announced that Artemis Fowl, a film adaptation of the 2001 novel of the same name, would be released straight to Disney+ on June 12, skipping a theatrical release entirely.¹⁴³¹⁴⁴
